CLARIFYINGYOUR WORK VALUES KNOWING WHAT'S MOST IMPORTANTO YOU

Values are a set of standards that determine attitudes, choices, and action. Mapping your value priorities can help lay important groundwork for making sound career decisions which fit your unique pattern of values, interests, and talents. Work-related values underlie our choices about work. Some people value creativity; others place a premium on salary or contributing.

Workplaces are becoming more collaborative, and people are increasingly looking not just for jobs, but for organizations whose values and culture align with their own. By the same token, the most effective organizations attract people who already share most of their key values.

Circle the 10 top values most important in your worklife for the next few years:

WORK ENVIRONMENT WORK RELATIONSHIPS WORK C ONTENT INTRINSICV ALUES Flexibility Teamwork Integrity Challenge Deadline pressure Trust Status Leading Surroundings Prestige Competence Cultural identity Time freedom Caring Achievement Masterv Security Competition Risk Respect High earnings Cooperation Responsibility Leading edge Detail oriented Action, fast pace Humor Power Structure Harmony Influence Social activism Relaxed pace Autonomy Appreciation Learning Predictability Open communication Helpina Excellence Location Belonging Focus Public contact Equality Creativity Independence Variety Comfortable income Contributing Growth Authenticity Knowledge Control Adventure

TOP 10 VALUES	DEFINITION